TAXPAYERS OF 1869, MANCHESTER VILLAGE, WASHTENAW COUNTY, MICHIGAN

Contributed by Don Callard, Ann Arbor, Michigan

Local records were not always written and housed in city or township halls, properly transferred in discrete volumes. Recently an old family-owned ledger book, containing certain Manchester financial records, was given to the Library of Michigan by Mrs. Betty Demarest of Belding, Michigan.

Almost half the book was a commercial ledger maintained by William S. Carr, and later owners of Manchester's first general store. Pre-Statehood entries from it were reported in Volume 11, No. 1 of Family History Capers.

The volume was begun in June 1833, recording debits and credits through 1834 in brown ink. Later dates were entered in a different hand infrequently until 1866, when clerks using blue ink began recording accounts regularly for two years. Instead of appearing on later pages, though, these balances were fit into the blank parts of the first hundred pages. Manchester Village accounts, recorded by Elijah G. Carr, occupy the remainder of the book, which has apparently stayed in the family even though the store had been sold.

From 1866 until the 1880s, tax and license receipts were intermingled with records of payments for services, chiefly street work and lighting. The most exhaustive tax list was that of 1869. Eight ledger pages, transcribed below, listed Elijah Carr's collections of corporation, street and poll taxes. Lists for 1870 and 1871 appear in the book as well, but are not included here.

Carr added a hundred to his paging: the first page of this list, which he called 225, is actually 125. He undoubtedly did this to help keep the civic and commercial records separate. In this transcription, Carr's spellings have been left uncorrected.

THE HUNT AND BREVOORT FAMILY BIBLE RECORD

This Bible record has been contributed by Sharon L. Brevoort of Ann Arbor, Michigan. The Bible belonged to her third great-grandparents, Pirum and Polly Hunt, who were early residents of Clintonville (now Columbus), Franklin County, Ohio. Pirum was born in New York State on 9 October 1791. Polly, daughter of John and Mary Camp, was born in New Haven, Connecticut, on 2 April 1794. After their marriage in 1814, they lived for some years in Athens, Athens County, Ohio, before settling in Clintonville, then located about ten miles north of Columbus. Pirum Hunt owned over 75 acres of farmland according to Clinton Township plat maps for 1856 and 1872. As active members of the Clinton Methodist Episcopal Chapel (which still stands as part of the Southwick Funeral Home on North High Street in Columbus), they provided transportation and safe haven for escapees along this segment of Ohio's Underground Railroad. Both were buried in the Clinton Chapel Cemetery.

ROLLING IN GENEALOGICAL CLOVER: THE McCLURES AND WEBSTERS ARE FOUND

Research by Marcia McCrary, Ypsilanti, Michigan

Thanks to Nancy Krohn, and her help in the process of writing a query for the Family History Capers, I have had the most incredible time this last summer.

When I first turned in my Webster/McClure query, Nancy gently asked for specific dates. All I had was an approximate wedding date of 1875, so Nancy recommended the 1880 census. I found my great-grandmother and great-grandfather right where I expected to see them, in Tuscola County. But, in the process of putting the finishing touches on the query, I discovered that my mother had given me a list of my great-grandmother's brothers and sister. To my surprise, they were also listed in the 1880 census, in Macomb and Oakland Counties, and, living with my great-grandmother's brother, Melvin McClure, in Oakland Township was my great-great-grandmother, Emeline McClure! (whose name was previously unknown to me).

While I was digesting all of this, I mentioned to a genealogical friend at church what I had found. He said "Oh, Macomb County, I go there all the time, my grandparents and great-grandparents are buried in Richmond. Would you like to go to the courthouse sometime?" So, off we set. I expected to find one or two little facts- you know how it is, you search and search, and once in a while find something that actually relates to your family!

Within the first 45 minutes, I had found Emeline's maiden name, and her parents' names: Laban and Sarah Lewis; Emeline's husband's given name: Joseph Grice McClure, and his parents' names: Joseph and Sarah McClure; plus several other death records of related people. When the clerk's office closed, we went next door to the Registrar of Deeds, and I found records of purchases of land beginning in 1868, including a flurry of activity in 1882, where family members were swapping pieces of land. One document even listed all the first generation heirs of Joseph Grice under Emeline McClure "et al."

We next hit the road for Richmond, stopping along the way to admire a Gotfredson Truck!!!

On the way home, David asked if I would like to swing through Washington Township. Of course I said yes, and picked a destination: Theodore McClure's land on Mt. Vernon Road. It pleased me to think of a relative walking right where we were driving.

About a mile and a half later, there was a cemetery next to a Methodist Church. David asked "Would you like to stop?" Sure! We weren't twenty feet away from the car when I spotted William McClure's (another one of great-grandmother's brothers) stone. The monument gave his wife's maiden name, Amelia Carlton. About ten feet behind that was M.L. McClure (including a Masonic device), with separate stones for Melvin, Margaret and daughter Orpha. David wandered away while I was taking pictures (yes, I even had my camera with me). He called out "Here's another McClure stone." This was Joseph Grice McClure and Emeline. Another twenty feet away, I saw "Webster," and there was my great-grandmother and great-grandfather, Emory and Carrie!

I knew from the death records I had just found that Carrie's brother, Theodore, was married to Sarah Townsend, whose parents were Zebulon and Maria Townsend, and we spotted their stone, too. That section of the cemetery had many Townsends. (I'm still sorting out how some of them are related.) I also noted Leatha Webster Rhoades, one of my grandfather's sisters, and her husband, Cameron.

On the way home we watched a colorful fleet of hot air balloons rising in the dusk, reflecting my spirits exactly.

Later, I checked for information on the newest surname, Lewis. In going through some Genealogical Helpers, I noticed a query from a man in Missouri about Samuel Lewis (I found later that he also had the query in FHC), which listed Washtenaw County and Canton Township, along with related names. That triggered something I had read in the Cornerstones book about Canton Township, which led me to call David Curtis (Civil War expert). He told me Helen Graham's husband was also related to Townsends (some of whom lived in Superior Township, and who had come from Macomb County). The Grahams had corresponded with a woman from Romeo who was related to my McClures.

I wrote to Doris Amsbury (author of the Patch Amsbury book which is at the GSWC/LDS library) and she shot back an answer with the name of a Washington Township genealogist, Virginia Bond. When my cousin from Arizona came to visit, we made an appointment with Virginia, who shared a book of Washington Township vital statistics, and one on the Mt. Vernon Cemetery with us. She told us about a Centennial farm owned by the McClure/Carlton/Smith family right close by. I have written to them, and to the author of the cemetery book, so this chapter isn't really over yet.

In some old DSGR magazines I bought at a GSWC sale, I found some Lapeer County records relating to these new lines.

I now have many new avenues of research, and lots of papers to sift. May all of you have similar experiences!
